ALL'S FAIR

When Sara Alice Bradley, Dot Remington, Jack Averitt and Robert Morris left on the bus for Jacksonville to visit Bob Darby, the bus trip was one of the most of them a "bus ride" was a new experience. We imagine it would be amusing to learn how many of this year's generation have never made a train trip. Those of you who have set the alarm clock for about four o'clock in the morning and have gone on one of those Sunday School picnics to Tybee, spent about three or four hours hanging to a rope until you learned to ride the waves, ate bushels of cotton candy, had your pictures made and came home sore and unburned had an experience that has no parallel in modern times. Nor does this generation count among their pleasures anything like the Fourth of July picnics usually given by the Macons, where we all drank lemonade from a large tub using tin dippers instead of paper cups—and in the afternoon there always an exciting ball game and it nearly always rained, and lucky was the person who could find a top buggy or better still a surrey. Our musical entertainment oftentimes consisted of good harmonica players. Speaking of music reminds me that the William Deas are at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., and William is studying every phase of music from eight o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon. And Annette Franklin after meriting Calculus at Agnes Scott and receiving grand reports in all other work is at Emory University, personally we think she's getting off work so that she can ease up and have a good time for herself later on—after all, Annette! How we envy the endurance of some people, here Junior Johnson galivants all over Ontario, takes in Buffalo, N. Y., goes in on Sunday and on Monday we find her putting up peach preserves.

Lure Johnston whose birthday is June 24, the same as the little Lindbergh baby that was kidnapped, has the right idea about birthday celebrations. On his 4th birthday he invited "Uncle" Jessie Outland and Grandma Johnson for dinner Friday evening and thereafter proudly displayed a bank full of money. All the boys are envying Billy Oliff, Jimmie Morris and Bernard Morris as they went home with Jimmie Cowart in that big U. S. Army truck. When Glenn Bland married Sunday he was seeing his first wedding—we thought that was a most unusual record when along comes Lure Johnston who has just returned from "West" Virginia where he witnessed his first church wedding.

Arline Brannen and Helen Arundel were talking about the danger of contracting certain diseases from milk. Arline said "We use pasteurized milk at our home." Did you who was listening said, "Mother what do you do to milk to paralyze it?"

As Ever, JANE.

Plans For 250 Miles
Power Line Made

WALTER L. WOLFE, RURAL ELECTRIFICATION ADMINISTRATOR ENGINEER MAPS PLANS FOR LINES

The county-wide rural electrification program for Bulloch county was launched last Friday when memberships were being solicited for the county.

Walter L. Wolfe, Rural Electrification Administration engineer, mapped plans for the work. He wrote up applications for 250 miles of line, 150 of which is in Bulloch county and 100 miles in Candler. According to the present plans there will be 1,100 members in the two counties.

The first official action in this county was the organization of the Excelsior Electric Membership Corporation. This part of the county will tie on to the Candler county line and if the present plans are completed there will be a complete circuit in Bulloch county with Statesboro as the center of a large circular line.

The solicitors who are working on memberships in the association are E. G. Tillman, J. F. Nevils, J. Paul Nevils, in the 44th and 45th districts; W. M. Turner and W. Louis Ellis in the 129th and 171st; John Oliff, I. V. Simmons and Chalmers Franklin in the 48th district; Harold Zetterow, Lester Martin and Jesse Akins in the 152nd and 154th districts; and Spurgeon Aaron in the area above Port.

When this line is completed every section of the county not now served by electricity, will be on an electric line.

Georgia Tobacco Markets
To Open Thursday, July 28Bulloch County Man Demonstrating
New Improved Sea Island Cotton Gin

L. L. Foss of Bulloch county is now displaying a new improved Sea Island cotton gin. Mr. Foss is the inventor of the old type Sea Island cotton gin.

The new gin, called the improved double roller Sea Island cotton gin, has two crank legs, two strippers with a two and three-fourths inch crank shaft with a one and one-half inch hollow through which water is forced while operating. Thus the old trouble of overheating in the old type gin is overcome.

The old gin had three strippers, three crank legs with a solid crank shaft, turning 600 revolutions per minute. At this speed there was no means of keeping the shaft cool, its speed being 1,000 revolutions per minute.

Mr. Foss claims that the new improved gin will gin one-third more cotton than the old type. The old type was capable of turning out a bale of cotton every hour.

All the supports on the new improved gin which hold the crank shaft and strippers in place are stronger than the old type.

Foss and Son Gin Company of Pualski are now taking orders for the new gin.

SENATOR GEORGE ASKS CONVENTION TO OPEN GEORGIA MARKETS ON AUGUST 2

The tobacco season will open in Georgia on Thursday, July 28, according to an announcement made in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., on July 1 at the meeting of the Tobacco Association of the United States.

The Georgia markets will be the first to open. The South Carolina markets will open August 4, and the Eastern North Carolina markets, on August 25, the middle belt markets on September 27 and the dark fired Virginia markets on November 28.

Realizing that the early market opening is of great importance to the Georgia tobacco grower, Senator George telegraphed the convention Thursday of last week, asserting the industry in Georgia would be injured if the markets were opened before August 2.

This year will see a new warehouse on the Statesboro market. R. E. Sheppard will complete his new house in the near future. When it is finished it will be one of the largest warehouses in this section. It will provide 105,000 square feet of floor space and is more than three times as large as either of the other houses.

Cobb and Foxhall will operate both the warehouses formerly owned by the Statesboro Tobacco Warehouse Company. Mr. Cobb and Mr. Foxhall purchased these two houses in October of last year. Mr. W. E. Cobb, with Mr. R. P. Holt, who died several years ago, leased one of the houses in 1928 and has been on the local market ever since. Following the death of Mr. Holt, H. P. Foxhall joined with Mr. Cobb and since 1928 Cobb and Foxhall have operated together. This year their warehouse floor space will be doubled.

Mr. Sheppard came to Statesboro six years ago from Kingston, N. C. For the last five years he operated one of the two houses formerly owned by the Statesboro Tobacco Warehouse Company but this year will see him in his new house.

PECULIAR GUINEA EGG

HARTWELL.—J. T. Riser, of the Reed Creek community near Hartwell, brought into town a "double-barreled" guinea egg recently that has been placed in the "menagerie" of funny things. It is the same size on each end with a "handle" in the middle. Even a guinea gets "off" a little sometimes, it seems.

Pine Seedlings Can Be Grown Here

COUNTY AGENT BYRON DYER SAYS SEEDLINGS ARE BEST IF GROWN FROM NATIVE SEED

In view of the fact that many Bulloch county farmers are considering reforestation, pine seedlings of their land, County Agent Byron Dyer today offered some advice in the selection and planting of seed.

"Young southern pine seedlings, for use in planting on the farm, can be produced inexpensively at home," he explained.

Georgia farmers, small lumber operators, 4-H clubs, Scout troops, and school classes can easily grow slash, loblolly, longleaf, or shortleaf pine seedlings for reforestation purposes but a few simple precautions are necessary, he said.

"The seedlings are best if grown from native seed, that is, from those seed collected nearby, or within about 50 miles of the locality having the same general soil and climate," Mr. Dyer stated. "A great advantage of home selection and extraction of seed is that the source, as well as the age of the seed, is known."

"Southern pine seed," he continued, "especially longleaf, give best results if sowed the first spring after seed is collected, or can be collected and extracted on the individual farm."

"According to the U. S. Forest Service, the growing conditions are so good throughout most of the Southern Atlantic and Gulf States that pine seedlings are usually large enough and well enough developed for planting in the field at the end of the first growing season in the nursery."

In the northern part of the region, however, two years at most will be required.

"Growing Nursery Stock of Southern Pines," a bulletin that has just been published telling about the various operation in detail, may be obtained from the U. S. Forest Service, Washington, D. C., free of charge while the supply lasts.

The week of June 20, farms were purchased by W. E. Deal and Otis Rushing, both of Bulloch county under this program.

OUR LIBRARY LOOKING AHEAD

With a sense of gratitude that is justifiable the American Library Association cites the figures of its present service to the public. They include 6,000 public libraries; 100 million books in circulation; 77 1-2 million persons served and twenty six million registered borrowers.

That is a record worth studying, particularly when it is considered that practically all this total is of comparatively recent growth; that it represents a tremendous advance in literacy, in widened horizons, in thinking and in intellectual enjoyment for the American people.

The people of Bulloch county are advancing along these same lines under the influence of the Bulloch County Library. With its services being extended into the various sections of the county and the organization of reading clubs with planned programs the library movement in the county advances. But in Bulloch county there are certain problems that must be solved before the library can do its greatest good. The chief of these is the problem of distribution of books and the education of the people to use the facilities the library offers.

With the splendid record behind them and the clear recognition of the problems that confront them we have a feeling that the library leaders eventually will attain the objectives toward which they are working.

BUSINESS — To the business man confidence is the basis of profits, and the prospect of profit is what makes prosperity. Factories are reopened or new ones built as soon as operators believe that there is at least a 50-50 chance of being able to sell more merchandise at a profit in the near future. The return of confidence usually begins to manifest itself in the stock market. People are willing to pay more for stocks and bonds of corporations once they feel assured that earnings and dividends are likely to increase. Last week men and women all over the country and even in Europe began to invest idle money in American securities. Result—the stock market rose to a new high for 1938. Even confirmed pessimists had to admit that all signs indicate the low point in the depression is behind us.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR — Golf clubs with transparent heads, in which arrows are imbedded to guide the stroke. . . A "can't miss torpedo" which, in case it misses an enemy battleship, turns back and strikes the warship from the opposite side. . . Portable partitions for soda fountains, which move on an overhead rail and can be adjusted to divide off any number of seats from others. . . A germicide more potent than tincture of iodine, yet less irritating. . . An "elevator" car which runs up and down the side of the stairs in your home.

HEADLINES — New car registrations declined, but filling stations see upturn in business—reason: old cars burn more gas than new ones. Cigarette production shows increase over last year. . . Private power companies last year paid a tax bill of $330,000, or 16 per cent of gross revenues. United

TAKE A TIP

We fell under the "spell" of the state troopers on a night last week.

Our heart fell behind our thoughts upon hearing the siren of a patrol car coming up behind us, while driving on U. S. 80 about three miles north of Portal. "C' hurch is out" we said to us, as we came to a halt on the side of the road. "How-do-you-do" the patrolman greets us, nice as you please, "Not so good, and you" (we could see no reason for telling the S. T. a lie). "Do you know you've been driving with the rear light out?" "No," we said. "You have. I regret it but I must write you a ticket!" the trooper informed us. So with a feeling of the lost, we reached for our drivers' license. While fishing through our wallet for the license we remarked: "While you are making out the ticket, we might as well fix that light and be done with it." "What do you mean," inquired the trooper. We told him that we had an extra tail light bulb and that while the car was stopped we could put it in. The trooper then volunteered to help us put the bulb in. After having some trouble with the lens on the light he said: "All the lights on this model car are like this. They are made so that the lens are hard to get out. Tell you what I'm going to do. I am not going to give you a ticket. Any man who carries an extra light bulb along with him doesn't deserve a ticket. You have this thing fixed as soon as you get to town and we'll forget all about it."

Our spirits rose from sub-zero to extreme enthusiasm for the entire highway patrol. "A fine bunch of men," says we.

And a great job they're doing in helping make our highways a safer place on which to travel.

Get your car an extra head-light and an extra tail light and save yourself a lot of grief. It's a tip.

Recently the following letter has been going the rounds of the press. It is written by an unknown author in answer to a collection letter. It sums up the times in which we are now living. We feel sure that after having written it the author must have felt a great deal of satisfaction in getting it off his chest:

DEAR FRIEND: In reply to your request to send a check, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to Federal laws, State laws, county laws, sister-in-laws, mother-in-laws and outlaws.

Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, poll tax, school tax, gas tax, water tax, sales tax, liquor tax, income tax, food tax, furniture tax and excise tax. Even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, liquor license, truck license, not to mention a marriage license.

I am required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of ringing to life, to woman's relief, the unemployed relief, and the gold diggers relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Purple Cross and the Double Cross.

For my own safety, I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployed insurance, old age insurance and fire insurance.

My business is so governed that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, dejected, and examined, re-examined, fined, commanded and compelled, until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race.

Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other, I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up and held down and robbed until I am almost ruined. I can tell you honestly that except for the miracle that happened, I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to my doors nowadays had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money.

Sincerely Yours,

CALEB: LIFE-TIME DEVOTION

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 14:8-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Brave Caleb.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Caleb the Brave.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Heroic Deed.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Courage for Difficult Tasks.

"We need to know more about good men who are occasionally great, and less about great men who are occasionally good," says the author of the lesson for today. That Caleb is one of the characters about whom the Bible does not say much, but in every case the word is one revealing high and noble character. Consider such passages as Numbers 13:6, 30; 14:7-9, 24, 30; 28:25, as evidence of his character.

The background for our study of today, and in fact an integral part of the lesson itself, is the story of Caleb's courageous stand with Joshua when the spies returned from their visit to Canaan, which is related in Numbers 13-14.

It is God's will for each of His children that they should come to such a place of simple trust and complete obedience that in every circumstance of life they need know only one thing—God's will, and then in faith to go and do it. It is a life beautiful in its transcendent simplicity and powerful in the strength of God Himself.

I. Perfect Obedience (vv. 6-8). "I wholly followed the Lord my God," such a testimony from a man like Caleb is no idle boast, no effort to parade his faith and piety before others. In saying it he was repeating what God and Moses had both said about him. In his heart he knew it to be true.

It is God's will for each of His children that they should come to such a place of simple trust and complete obedience that in every circumstance of life they need know only one thing—God's will, and then in faith to go and do it. It is a life beautiful in its transcendent simplicity and powerful in the strength of God Himself.

II. Promised Inheritance (v. 9). "Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance," such was the promise of God through Moses. Forty-five long years had elapsed, but even through this period of wilderness wanderings and the conflict in subduing Canaan the promise had lived in Caleb's heart. He knew it would be fulfilled, and he waited serenely for God's time.

Such also are the promises of God which keep the heart singing in our hours of trial and sorrow, which light up the dark ways, which strengthen the heart of His children. Learn God's promises, cherish them in your heart, expect God to fulfill them.

III. Preserved Strength (vv. 11, 12). "The Lord hath kept me alive," such a statement, if true, was a man kept of God, in full vigor in his eighty-fifth year, "like a rock in a changeless sea, like a snow-capped peak in a change of cloud and storm and sun" (Meyer). No doubt there was what our forefathers liked to call "the longevity of the antediluvians," but even apart from that let us recognize that life and strength come from God, and that those who walk with God in holy living may count on Him for the renewed strength of youth.

An incidental, but extremely important, lesson, we should learn is that God has no age deadline. The church has frequently sinned against Him and against His faithful servants by "shelving them" for younger men, when they would have brought blessing to themselves and to the church by encouraging and using them. The writer of these lines is a young man, but he would speak here a word of loving admonition regarding his honored brethren who have gone on before to bear the brunt of the battle.

IV. Powerful Assurance (vv. 12-15). "If . . . the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able," Caleb asked for no easy task. He was ready to go up against the giants of Hebron. Read Deuteronomy 3:11, and you will find that there were men in those days who needed thirteen-foot beds. But Caleb was not afraid. He counted not on his own strength, but on the power of God. It is significant that while the other sections of the lesson were only partially conquered Caleb brought his formidable adversaries entirely under control, so that the land had rest from war" (v. 15).

The spiritual application to our day is evident and appropriate. There are giants in the land in this year of our Lord 1938. Corruption—social and political—raises its brazen head. Drunkenness and vice leer at us with the impudent suggestion that we cannot control them. There are giants "within us"—greed, selfishness, love of ease, lust, passion, cruelty" (Blakely). Are we to do nothing about them? If we are to meet them in the strength of the flesh we might almost as well do nothing. But in the power of God, we are like Caleb—able. In His name we may take up a slogan of today, "Let's do something about it!" and really do it, for His glory.

All's Fair...

Sing a song of red bugs, ants and lemon pie.
We ride, we swim, we burn, we bake.

On the glorious Fourth of July.

promise of rain gave way to sunshine, and though many left for beaches and other sources of recreation out of town, many of our people stayed at home probably remembering the slogan to "be alive on the fifth" . . . A goodly portion of our high school age folks were at the slating ring, going off to a slow start the rink has steadily won more devotees to that greatful art . . . Callie Thomas is our nomination for the best woman skater on the floor . . . And the Mc- Dougald twins, a boy and a girl, arrived on the eve before the Fourth on their aunt, Leona Newton's birthday. Bet Papa Bernard thought all those firepoppers were celebrating his parental estate.

A ride over Statesboro these days fills us with pride, as we view signs of prosperity and civic improvements on every side . . . Sheppard's mam- moth warehouse reminds us of acre upon acre of waving tobacco to be gathered, cured and offered to buyers for money—lots of it . . . Two new residences going up on South Main Street, an imposing looking apartment house on Bulloch street—the McDou- ald home whose broad verandas and stately columns set far back from the street reflect the gentle grace and grandeur of the old South, is getting a new coat of paint . . . Completed tennis courts back of the Methodist church answer the urge to exercise in competitive play, and just out of the city limits the path of the golf link grows each day more discernible and our small boys will soon be proudly displaying quarters they earned for caddyding . . . But we want to hand our bouquets this week to Mrs. Bill Simmons, for we credit her with the immaculate appearance of her home, her lawn and the entire premises. Even the tidy chicken coops overlook a vista of petunias—We sought in vain for the sort of trash that seems to smother us as we pound away on a typewriter, but Sula must be a C-Man with dirt and rubbish her natural enemy.

Corinne Pafford off to Camp Bon Air in Tennessee where she again assumes the role of Counselor. Corinne is in charge of Camp Dramatics and she declares they are much more im- portant than the play. . . Foy Olliff and Inman Foy back from Ty- bee and burned even to their eye- brows. Foy persists in his claim that he saw a shark . . . Roger Holland cruelly dangles a piping hot chicken skewer before quivering glaciatory nerves of Charles Layton at the Chi- cken Supper Friday evening at Lan- nie Simmons' fish pond . . . Alma Booth whole-heartedly recommends St. Simon as a summer resort.

Allee Katherine and Hubert Am- ason have just returned from a lov- ely trip including all the beauty spots of Florida. They went to Key West over that breathtaking expanse of highway stretching for miles over the water. A K's artistic temperature responded to the ever-changing colors of the water and the lovely skies.

Nevils News

The Nevils canning plant has been running on a regular schedule each week since its opening. Sometimes an extra day is added in case some one had an unusual large lot of food stuff to can. The plant has run at capacity all the while, it being necessary to continue into the night. People from all sections of the community have helped in the duties around the plant.

Since the raw vegetables are selling so low at the present time, the general opinion is that the canned food will prove more profitable for the truck farmers.

All the people interested in the canning of their foodstuffs at Nevils are urged to prepare them on the same day that they expect to can them. It is the experience of those operating the plant and the housewives who utilize it that no food can be expected if it is prepared the day before it is to be canned. It is requested that all with foodstuffs to can have it at the plant before 4:00 o'clock.

GROWTH OF READING CLUB CORRECTED

Last week it was reported that the reading club had grown from 30 to 36. This should have been from 8 to 30. The membership at the meeting on Saturday, June 25, was 66. It is expected to be larger.

GROWTH OF READING CLUB AMAZING

It is amazing to see how the enrollment of the Nevils Reading Reading Club has grown. The first Saturday the enrollment was eight. The following Saturday it grew to 13. At the third meeting the membership was thirty. The club was well organized at the fourth meeting and under the enthusiasm of the new officers and the old members the membership increased to sixty-six. Other new members are expected at the next meeting. (Perhaps you will find a later article giving the latest account elsewhere in this issue of the Herald.)

Several of the members are at the camp and may not be back in time to attend Saturday's meeting, but we are expecting new members to fill their places. A story-teller will be present as usual. The Vacation Reading Club will meet on each Saturday from 4:30 to 6:30 in the School Library.

VISITORS AT NEVILS

On last Saturday morning, June 25, Mr. Richard J. Hurley, librarian of the Roslyn Public Schools of Roslyn, N. Y., and now a member of the Teachers Summer School faculty was a visitor at Nevils High School Library. Mr. Leon Holloway, School Service Librarian, also a visitor. Mr. Hurley, who is now teaching Library Science offered some very helpful suggestions, as to the arrangement of the present library. Mr. Hurley will meet with the Reading Club group and be the guest story-teller in the near future.

Skating Rink Open Here

SKATING RINK WITH THREE SESSIONS A DAY IS OPENED AT THE STATESBORO ARMYORY

There is fun for all if all will take the evening or night off and go down to the National Armyory and don a pair of skates.

Opened only for a few weeks the Skating Ring in the Guards Armyory is proving to be one of the most popular spots in town to have fun. Both the young and old are enjoying skating.

Under the experienced management of Mr. Sam F. Schlesinger, the rink has become the most popular place of amusement in town. Mr. Schlesinger, who is from Atlanta, stated last Thursday that he has leased the Armyory floor for an indefinite period and if the public demands it, he will continue to operate the rink right on into the winter months. He stated that the bowling alley is to be moved out of the building and that there will be considerable more space when it is removed.

With Mr. Schlesinger are his son, Sam Jr., and his daughter, both who are very good roller skaters. Three sessions are held daily. The first one begins at 3 in the afternoon and lasts until 5. The night sessions are from 7:30 until 9:30 and from 9:30 until 11:30. Music throughout all sessions is provided by the management and admission to the spectators is free. Waltz skating and dance skating are the main features throughout the seasons.

Mr. Schlesinger also stated that less skaters would be given by professional skaters if wanted.
